

Which form of rock is created by volcanic activity?

Which form of rock has been changed by heat and pressure distorting the material?

Which form of rock is the result of layers of sediment being cemented together?

What is the name of a substance where particles will flow and take the shape of any container and is easily compressed?

What is the name of the process by which the Earth's lithosphere changes shape?

What name is given to tectonic plates that spread apart?

What is the source of energy that drives the water cycle?

What name is given to tectonic plates that slide into and beneath one another?

What is the name given to the area where one plate slides under another?

What is the name for water that flows directly off the ground into a body of water?

Metamorphic

Igneous

Gas

Sedimentary

Divergent Plates

Plate tectonics

Convergent Plates

The sun

Run-off

Subduction Zone