

Quiz 2

Name _____

Extra Credit Challenge _____

- 1) Which Biome has soil existing mostly as permafrost? _____
- 2) Which Biome has cold winters and contains mostly coniferous trees? _____
- 3) Which Biome has trees that lose their leaves every year? _____
- 4) Which Biome receives more than 2.5 meters of rain every year? _____
- 5) Which Biome is the largest? _____
- 6) What is the most important factor defining a Biome? _____
- 7) What is the living part of the planet called? _____
- 8) What describes a group of ecosystems with similar climates and organisms? _____
- 9) What is the name for non-living components to an ecosystem? _____
- 10) Organisms that eat dead organisms. _____
- 11) Organisms that eat meat _____
- 12) Organisms that eat plants _____
- 13) Organisms that eat both plants and animals _____
- 14) Organisms that break down dead organic material. _____
- 15) True or False. Secondary consumers can be Herbivore _____
- 16) True or False. Energy is gained as a food chain moves from producer to consumer. _____

17) Collectively, what are zones C,D,E, F and L known as? _____

18) Collectively, what are water zones G,H and I known as? _____

19) What is the name of the light free zone represented by G? _____

20) What zone, otherwise known as the “House of the Dead” is represented by F _____

21) What is the name of the zone represented by L _____

22) What is the name of the photosynthetic rich water zone that gets lots of light? _____